DOZEN TOWNS FALL IN THIRD ARMY SURGE

PATTON'S TANK OFFENSIVE SOUTHEAST OF METZ DRIVES THREE MILES PAST DELME

Artillery Pounds on Both Sides of Maas In Holland As Enemy Displays Nervousness Over Possibility of Renewed Action

RIDGEHEADS ACROSS MOSELLE ARE DEEPENED

BULLETIN
With U. S. Third Army, Nov. 10.—(P)—Leap-frogging infantry elements of the Sixth Armored Force gained five miles from Rancourt today and advanced well beyond Buchy, 8½ miles southeast of Metz.

By WILLIAM FRYE
London, Nov. 10.—(P)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army took its mud shovels and surged forward in a full-blown offensive today, capturing Chateau-Salins, along with dozens of other towns and villages. A total advance of 10 miles was made at places in the three-day drive along a 55-mile arc around Metz.

Artillery pounded on both sides of the Maas (Meuse) in Holland as the enemy displayed nervousness at the possibility of a new offensive into northern Holland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First Army prodded the Germans with local attacks in the Hurtgen and Schmidt areas southeast of Aachen.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's tank-led offensive southeast of Metz lunged three miles beyond Delme today, gaining momentum and taking shape as a northeastward power drive to cut in behind the fortress.

Patton's drive along a 55-mile arc around Metz, the thrust placed fourth moved division tanks within 12 miles of the main highway running eastward from Metz to Saarbrücken.

Immediately south of Delme the Fourth Infantry captured the four-mile-long Delme ridge, a 1,200-foot mass on which the Germans had gun emplacements, a field dispatch said.

Patton's forces cut across a lateral highway on each side of the city of Chateau Salins, near the west end of the forward-tolling ridge, and captured the city, a field dispatch said.

North of Metz two new bridgeheads across the Moselle river were opened. The offensive surged forward on a bomb-blasted 55-mile front in the wake of a tactical lack yesterday by 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers. The bridgeheads were in the area northeast of Monville.

Infantry moved in behind the air assault and rolled forward yesterday through nine towns and villages. West of Chateau-Salins they were in the Bois d'Aulnois, both of the Gremey forest, and driving forward beyond Viviers, 20 miles east of Delme.

On the north, the Patton-Mousson road drive had passed through a 10-mile south of Metz, and was rolling up new gains beyond the town.

Thousands Throng Streets Of Washington To Welcome Return of Chief Executive

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, Nov. 10.—(P)—A quarter-million rain-soaked citizens turned out today to roar a hearty welcome home to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Preceded by a flying V (for victory) of 50 motorcycle policemen, the president grinned and waved from the back seat of an open car to the umbrella-toting throngs which surged against four and a half miles of cable and rope along the route of his triumphal procession from Union Station to the White House.

William A. Van Duzen, district traffic director, made a "rough and ready" estimate that 250,000 men, women and children disregarded the inclement weather to take part in the welcome.

A night-long rain almost stopped the president's progress as he made his way to the White House. No amplification system had been installed and only those very close were able to hear.

The rain pattered to a drizzle as Mr. Roosevelt leaned toward a battery of microphones at a stop in the Union Station plaza to thank the people for "this very wonderful welcome home."

V-2 ROCKETS ARE FASTER THAN SOUND

Churchill Says New Vengeance Weapon Plunges From Arc Seventy Miles In Air

ATTACKS SIGNIFICANT

By DWIGHT L. PITKIN

London, Nov. 10.—(P)—The Germans for weeks have been plunging V-2 rockets into England at a speed faster than sound and from arcs 70 miles high but thus far have caused little damage.

Prime Minister Churchill announced today in commons.

The Germans said V-2 and the earlier V-1 flying robot bomb were being used against both Paris and Antwerp as well as England and boasted that the vengeance weapons would make the hard-won Belgian port "unsuitable for unloading troops and material on a major scale."

The intact docks of Antwerp are depended upon by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to supply his offensive into Germany.

The scale of the attack has not hitherto been significant, Churchill said.

Casualties have been light, largely because the warhead of approximately a ton buries itself so deeply into the earth when it lands at speeds exceeding 700 miles per hour.

Where the rockets were coming from was not clear. The Germans said the Allies never would find the camouflaged sites; Churchill said some were found on the captured Dutch island of Walcheren.

German propagandists pulled out all stops; they insisted that Churchill "had to admit" the existence of V-2; that it was not the last secret weapon; they hinted directly that the United States might feel its explosive weight.

Indeed, Churchill said the range might be increased.

Military men said this for the rocket, which is dubbed the "flying telephone pole" because of its elongated shape, had been a flop. The whole contraption weighs about 15 tons and has a range of more than 250 miles, but carries only about a ton of explosives.

Some extreme estimates of its speed run to 3,600 miles an hour. (Turn to Page Eleven)

Harrisburg, Nov. 10.—(P)—At least half a hundred Pennsylvania political contests stand to be decided on the basis of the foxhole and seagull ballot.

From U. S. senator down to the state house, the G. I. vote holds the answers to upsets or confirmations to a sweeping Democratic victory or a Republican election face-saver.

On the outcome of the 250,000 soldier votes apparently rests the final determination of these contests.

U. S. Senator Rep. Francis J. Myers, Democratic challenger, is 1,593 votes ahead of the Republican incumbent, on the basis of absentee and absentee returns from 8,205 of the state's 8,208 precincts.

U. S. house of representatives—Sixth district, where Herbert J. McGlinchey (D) leads; seventh, where GOP incumbent James Wolfenden is head, and 11th where Daniel J. Flood (D) holds a slight majority; the other 39 congressmen, 13 Democrats and 17 Republicans, have safe civilian vote leads.

All War Loan Drive Workers Urged to Attend Monday Rally

Monday night's rally at the Columbia Theatre for all workers in the Sixth War Loan will eclipse any similar rally ever held in Warren county. From start to finish it will be replete with new, startling and pulse-quickening scenes.

Because the program will be so important to the success of the drive, members of the executive committee of the 6th War Loan again remind all workers that admission will be by ticket only. Those who have not yet secured their tickets must do so tomorrow or early Monday.

Due to the limited capacity of the Columbia Theatre and the novelty of the program, only those holding tickets can be admitted. The curtain will rise promptly at 7:45. From then until the performance is over there will be drama, action and thrill upon thrill as the program unfolds.

Stark, realistic moving pictures direct from the wide-spread battle fronts will be shown in a series of films just released by the Army and Navy Signal Corps. These pictures have not been shown elsewhere and will depict, in a vivid way, how material and armament, bought with subscriptions from previous War Loans, are put to effective use in winning the war against Germany and Japan.

As a special feature of the program, three players from the American Theatre Wing will appear in a dramatic skit, "The Favor," (Turn to Page Seven)

Fugitive Is Arrested In Jamestown

Those boys dressed in black had another comparatively quiet evening last night with just a few cases reported. They were called out to quiet a few who were making use of someone's back porch as a refuge from the rain which fell last evening.

Robert Petty, Youngsville, who was being sought by the local police following a dash for freedom from the station Wednesday evening, was located in Jamestown last evening and has been brought back to Warren. Petty had been booked on a charge of writing a worthless check. He was scheduled for arraignment some time this afternoon.

Otherwise the boys had a nice quiet evening of patrolling the streets to see that everything went along as scheduled.

Interesting Talks Heard By Field and Stream Members

Members of the Warren Field and Stream Club held their regular monthly meeting at the YMCA last night. The meeting was one of the best attended meetings this year.

Several reports were given during the business meeting by the committee chairman. Sportsmen were reminded that both the upper and lower dog training areas had been reported. Jay Pees, Department of Forests and Waters, reported that the club's plan for housing the hunters who invade Warren county each year is progressing, although the response to the plea for accommodations has not been too satisfying. He also reported that three forest fires in the past few weeks have been caused by the hunters. Mr. Pees asked that, with the hunting sea-

After a brief talk by Dr. Shortt, Bill McKechnie, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was introduced and gave a brief talk to the club on his hunting activity in Warren county yesterday and on baseball. Bill was taken on a hunting expedition by several members of the Field and Stream Club yesterday afternoon, but all failed to have any luck.

Mr. McKechnie has been appointed by Ross Leffler, president of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, as a member of the 25th anniversary committee of the Game Commission, when the John M. Phillips aboriginal memorial will be dedicated. During his talk he discussed some of his experiences in baseball as well as hunting, after which he answered a number of questions.

The main speaker of the evening was Dr. H. E. Kilgus, member of the Pennsylvania State Game Commission. Dr. Kilgus spoke on the predatory control situation in the state and gave some interesting facts to the club members. Dr. Kilgus spoke about the lack of certain game in Warren county. He explained that the lack of some animals is due to the abundance of many others.

Following the meeting a lunch was served by Frank Reese and his refreshment committee.

Office Manager Is an Expert In Removing Enemy Pillboxes

By HAL BOYLE

In Occupied Germany, Oct. 31—(Delayed)—Lt. Ray S. Earhart, who used to be an office manager back in Columbus, Ohio, has become an expert in the painless removal of enemy pillboxes.

He and his men in two days destroyed 25 bunkers in Germany's Siegfried line in a 1,000-yard advance over a front 2,000 yards wide.

Don't let any swivel chair field marshal tell you cracking pillboxes isn't a science.

"Since pillboxes are so placed that they protect each other with covering fields of fire, we had to take out more than one at a time," Earhart said.

"We would move our tanks in on the flank or rear of a pillbox to get on its blind side. Meanwhile, a forward observer riding in one of the tanks would call down artillery to drive back any German infantrymen waiting to take a close-up crack at our tanks.

"As our tanks got into position to fire through the rear door or apertures of the pillbox we were attacking, another of our assault teams would begin pasting adjoining pillboxes so the men inside had to button up and couldn't throw any supporting fire.

"When we walked out he saw 25 to 30 Germans walking out of the next pillbox. They had heard him and gave up without a shot being fired."

The actual job of cleaning out and blowing up pillboxes was supervised by Lt. Joe T. Harper, 26, of McAlester, Okla., whose men took 30 prisoners in one afternoon.

"We moved right in behind an assault team and took over after they drove the Germans outside guards back into the pillbox," he said. "We got up close, under cover of a steady stream of fire from machineguns and light tanks that pinned down any stray Germans left around."

"If a pillbox was unoccupied our engineers blew it up. In several pillboxes we found compartments destroyed and apparently nobody left at home. But when we got inside we caught Germans hiding in their bunk compartments and hoping we would pass them by."

"By then most of the fight was out of them. But you can't take any chances with them. They're always pulling funny stuff. We would challenge the mifrom a rear door and if they refused to come out we just flipped in some grenades. That always brought them out. Even if the explosion doesn't hurt them, they can't stand the smell of the grenade fumes in such close quarters."

"In knocking out those 25 pillboxes we lost only two men killed and our total casualties were less than 20."

Harper, an officer in the armored infantry of the second armored "hell on wheels" division, said his men called in english for the cornered Jerries to surrender.

"We were too busy to learn German," he grinned, "and besides it wasn't necessary. They caught the idea pretty quick."

ARMISTICE DAY

For the third time we are celebrating Armistice in the midst of a war which has so altered the occasion's spirit and significance that there is some reason to doubt that November 11 will have a permanent place among our national holidays.

For twenty years we observed November 11 as the anniversary of that historic occasion when the "war to end war" was itself brought to an end. But for the past five years such an observance would have been a mockery of the facts. Rather, it has become a rebuke to the world of statesmen who, confronted repeatedly by threats to the brave slogan of "war to end war", did not raise their hands to stay those threats.

But the altered circumstances have not lessened the honor paid to the men who died believing that slogan, since the beginning of history men have honored soldiers who died in battle for a cause they thought just. But for the soldiers of 1917-18, the cause had a nobility and grandeur that surpassed all others.

Today some may look back to the slogans of "war to end war" and a world "safe for democracy" with the same cynicism that many statesmen must have felt about them at the time. But many, perhaps most, of the American doughboys believed them. If they had to die in battle it was in the belief that no son or grandson of theirs, or any man anywhere, would have to do it again. And the same belief sustained and soothed the families of these doughboys.

Now another generation of American soldiers is fighting and dying. Maybe the thoughts of this generation are less idealistic. But the peace for which these soldiers fight may well have a better hope of permanence for that very reason.

For the world at last seems to have realized how unworthy some guardians of the peace were of the sacrifice of even one Allied soldier's life. And when peace comes this time it seems certain that the American people, at least, will demand a greater voice in outlining the task of keeping that peace permanent, and will assume a more careful watch of those to whom the task is entrusted.

Thus, at last, we may keep faith with the men who died in the first World War and those who must die in the second to defeat the war makers and bring an end to war. When we can say that a sound, workable whole-hearted organization for world peace is established and successful we can also say that we have honored these men as fully as we can.

That day, perhaps, will not be marked on a calendar. But until it comes the obligation to speed it should be this country's concern on November 11 and every day of the year.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

This may start an argument with groggy election boards, but s'hlep up, the presidential vote hasn't been counted yet, reminds one of our Associated Press correspondents in Washington.

You didn't vote Tuesday for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Dewey. You voted for electors, George Spelvin or Joe Doakes, pledged to one or the other.

These electors, under the constitution, meet on Saturday, January 6, 1945 and solemnly cast the vote in the "electoral college".

Only then is it official that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman won. (They're reasonably sure now, though.)

All this is because of the second, twelfth and 20th amendments to the constitution, saying how, when and where an election becomes official.

It says that the electors chosen in each state must meet and cast their ballots "on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December." That is Dec. 18 this year. They must make and sign six certificates. Three go to Washington. One goes to the president of the senate, the others to the secretary of state.

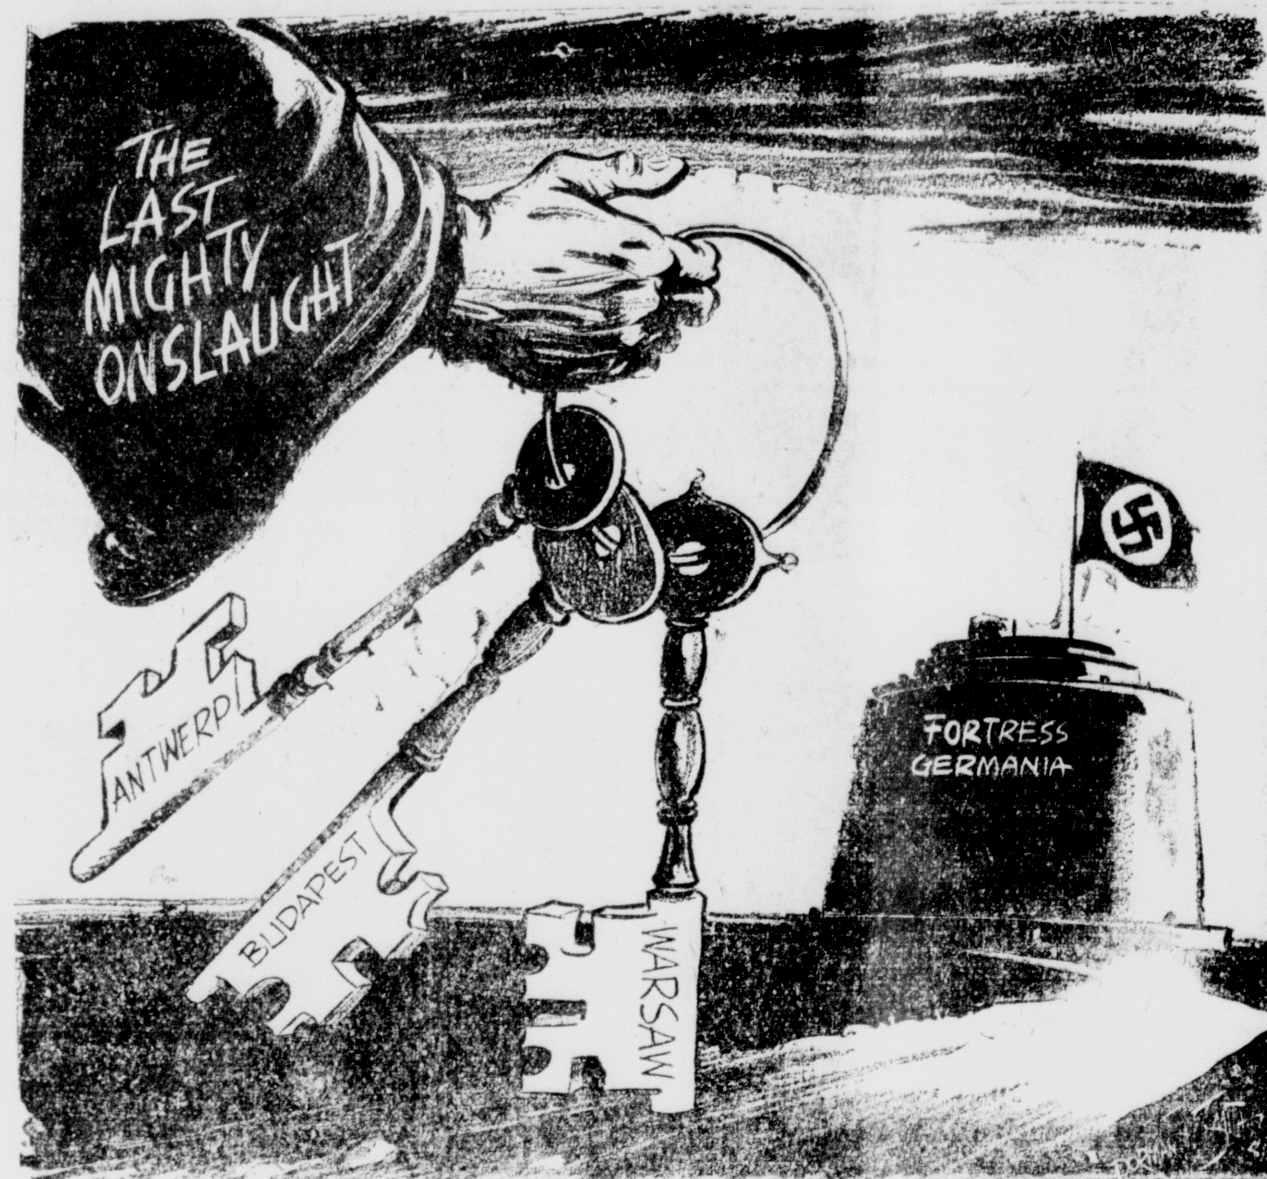

It says further that congress must be in joint session January 6, 1945. The president of the senate presides over both bodies. The electoral votes are counted and the presiding officer, in this case Henry Wallace, announces "the state of the vote, which announcement shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of the persons, if any, elected president and vice president of the United States."

Some people think this is so much hoop-de-do. There have been several proposals to abolish the electoral system and make presidential voting the same as other balloting.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.—Matthew 5:30.

G. I. Joes Have a Difficult Time Figuring French Girls

By HAL BOYLE

With the American Seventh Army in France, Oct. 27—(Delayed)—(P)—Life along the front:

"These French girls are hard to figure out," said the soldier from Kentucky.

"Yeah," said the soldier from Kentucky.

"Let harder than those gals we knew in Italy."

"Yeah."

"Take those gals in Italy. All you had to do was to say you was going to marry them and take them to America and you was the same as the king. Nothing they wouldn't do for you."

"Yeah," said the soldier from Kentucky.

"But these French gals—you tell them you are going to take them to America after the war and that don't settle anything. They are what you call 'difficult.' That is French for 'difficult.'"

"Yeah," said his buddy.

We had picked up the two soldiers in our jeep as we passed through a small French village in which they had been stationed some time before. They had revisited their girl friends and were returning to their camp. The soldier from Wyoming was a short, stocky blonde boy of twenty, lively as a cricket. His friend from Kentucky was a few years older, dark featured and solemn faced.

"My girl's name is Rolande," said Wyoming. "She's the prettiest blonde I ever saw. She's only 18. She don't speak English and I can't speak enough French to notice. But we can talk along all right when we are alone. When her folks get to talking to me, though, I get all mixed up and can't understand them. They don't use the same words as my girl—else they use them too fast."

"My girl's named Francelle," volunteered Kentucky. "I seen prettier girls since I come overseas two years ago—but not around here."

TINY TOOLS

Use of tiny tools under a microscope, to build and improve war machines, is saving space and time by using such minute amounts of materials that rare and costly chemicals can be used. They also make possible extreme safety in hazardous tests, and savings in personnel and costs.

No helicopter built today can carry more than two or three passengers including pilot, and most of them will carry only the pilot. Aeronautical engineers have stated that the helicopter today is in the stage of development that the airplane was at the end of the last war.

The President's flag consists of the President's seal in bronze, upon a blue background, with a white star in each corner.

live in Wyoming after the war." "Yeah and Francelle thinks that she's going to live in Kentucky." They looked at each other and laughed so hard the tears ran out of their eyes. They slapped each other's backs and laughed and laughed, as the jeep sped them down the road away from Rolande and Francelle.

"Francelle gave me a couple of presents," said Kentucky. He held out a small bottle of cheap perfume and both soldiers smelled it and laughed again.

"She also gave me an envelope and told me to open it when I got back to camp," said Kentucky. "Let's see what is in it."

He tore open the cheap white envelope. He shook it impatiently—and a soiled and crumpled hundred franc note slipped from the envelope and into his hands.

Wyoming looked at the crumpled bill in his friend's hand. He stopped laughing.

"She knew I was broke," said Kentucky uncomfortably. He carefully screwed the top back on the perfume bottle and put it in his pocket. His fingers played nervously with the hundred franc note. He looked at it again.

"Maybe," he said, "she may live in Kentucky after the war."

"Maybe," said Wyoming.

Special Events to Be Arranged For PAC Membership

Members of the PAC, sponsored by the First Presbyterian and Trinity Memorial churches of Warren, will enjoy an evening of fun at the YMCA from 7:30 to 11:00 p. m. Saturday. This program will be in charge of Club "17" of the PAC and will include tournaments in volleyball, as well as swimming and the other games available at the Y.

Special mention is made of a movie secured by Leland Daye for the YMCA theatre, a Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Flying Deuces," which should prove to be the best film offered members to date. All members and friends will be welcome at this activity.

Next week Tuesday, the PAC will enjoy a roller skating party at the armory rink from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Arrangements have been made to have this a private party for members only and at special rates. PAC directors as well as the rink management will be on hand to make this affair a lot of fun for everyone.

Club "17," which meets for dinner at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday at the First Presbyterian church, will join the skating party at the close of its meeting.

At one time, North Carolina owners of high hats paid an annual tax of $4 to the state for the privilege. Owners of gold-headed canes paid a similar levy.

Community Party At Beaty School For the Graders

The community party this evening at Beaty school is the first given solely for young people in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. All committees have been headed by the boys and girls, under the supervision of the community recreation party committee.

All of the talent used in the floor show, which is scheduled for ten o'clock this evening, is also from this age group. Those who have seen trouts and rehearsals say the younger floor show will give real competition to the older group. Nancy Geracimos and Marilyn Dobbs have both appeared before the larger group.

Nancy will give a Russian dance number this evening and Marilyn has an acrobatic and tap dancing act ready. Joe Fuellhart has selected six of his cleverest magic tricks to baffle his audience. Dorothy Benson will give a comedy monologue; and Murray Jennings has a vocal number which has previously won praise from the young people.

Two groups of girls have prepared a couple of popular numbers. The singers are Gail Bevevino, Patricia Brown, Nancy Plummer, Emma Lou Plummer, Nancy Pettibone, Mary Wehner, Marcia Richardson, Nancy Swanson, Lois Hulings and Carol King.

A variety of entertainment has been planned for the boys and girls starting off at eight o'clock. Dale Soderburg's Orchestra will play for those who like dancing. There will be table games and active games for others. For those who like to sing, group singing is scheduled early in the party and a music listening room will be open all evening. There will be the usual refreshments.

VFW and Auxiliary Plan Dinner-Dance On Armistice Day

At the regular meeting of VFW Auxiliary members, held last evening in the post rooms, plans were completed for the dinner-dance to be held on Saturday night to observe Armistice Day.

Dinner will be served at 6:00 p. m., with round and square dancing from 9:00 until 12:00. Members are reminded that the committee will provide the meat and dessert, the women to bring a turkey and rolls.

Mrs. Augusta Anderson, Water street, a Gold Star Mother, was reported very ill. As an Armistice Day gift it was voted to send flowers to all the Gold Star Mothers.

A change was made in the next regular meeting date, the session to be held on Tuesday, November 21, because of Thanksgiving on Thursday of that week.

Executive Group Of Players' Has Production Plans

Major item of business discussed at a meeting of the Warren Players' Executive Committee this week consisted of plans for the season's second major production, "Our Town," which will be presented on December 7 and 8.

Director Ann Hyatt has announced that nearly all of the large cast have been selected and that rehearsals are already under way. Names of members of the cast will be revealed within the next few days and will disclose the fact that a considerable amount of new talent has been secured.

The executive committee of the Players announces that while "Our Town" is definitely a major presentation—so much so that it is considered one of the most ambitious undertakings in the Players' history—it will be offered as a studio play for the benefit of active and associate members of the organization.

Individual tickets will not be sold but if there are individuals particularly interested in this presentation who are not members of the Players they will have the opportunity to attend.

"Our Town" is a definite departure from the traditional drama of theatrical history because of the absence of stage settings or properties. This unconventional experiment was awaited with much interest by drama critics. The fact that it proved to be a successful experiment was resoundingly proved in the wave of applause which followed its professional appearance. It has been called "a great-hearted, wise, and tender play," "as homely, as vital, as inspiring as life itself."

The Play's 600 active and associate members may anticipate "Our Town" as a production to rank with the finest in the organization's history.

World Week Of Prayer Program To Be Book Review

Mrs. Robert Young, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. religious and world fellowship committee, announces that her committee has arranged for a public book review to be presented next Saturday. Mrs. W. E. Lutz will review Aylene Porter's book "Papa Was a Preacher".

Each year the world week of Prayer and World Fellowship is observed by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. in November and this year it is from November 11 to 19th. YMCAs throughout the world will have activities that turn their thoughts to their sisters in other countries. Women of over 50 countries unite through the world's Y. W. C. A. in 31 languages and in many dialects.

Warren's observance this year of World Fellowship Week centers around the book review, at which time there will also be a short presentation of the world work of the Y. W. C. A. This year marks 50 years since the world's Y. W. C. A. was founded in London and although Warren is not having a special observance of this event, many will participate by listening to the short wave broadcast from England, Sunday, November 12, and the American broadcast from the Washington Cathedral in the nation's capital on Sunday, November 19, at 4 p. m.

Last year the Warren Y. W. C. A. gave over $100 as a World Fellowship gift. This year it is hoped to do likewise and all who obtain tickets for the book review will be contributing the purchase price to the international work of the Y. W. C. A. The needs are many and it is hoped that many will participate in this worthy cause.

Mrs. David Crossett and Miss Blanche Francis are committee members in charge of tickets and they are also available from the other committee members; Mrs. Young, Mrs. Fred Lesser, Mrs. E. K. Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Lopez and Miss Hildur Laugerquist, from any member of the board of directors, or at the Y. W. C. A. office and residence.

High octane aviation fuels may be more plentiful after the war because of a new development in the design and operation of a smaller, less expensive unit for carrying out the necessary catalytic cracking process to obtain these fuels from petroleum products.

VITAMINS THE WAY YOU WANT THEM

More and more families are turning to BAX, the Complete Vitamin Capsule, for their vitamins. They find BAX more convenient to take—just one tiny capsule each day—no need to take several tablets.

More important is this fact: "Each BAX capsule supplies at least the full adult minimum daily requirement of the important vitamins needed in human nutrition. Why pay more—and perhaps get less?"

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Raked Up By the Office Gang

A comparison between the figures of the vote in Warren county last Tuesday with that of the gubernatorial election of ten years ago when the state ticket was led by George H. Earle, for governor, and Joseph Guffey, for U. S. Senator, reveals a surprising situation. At that time Schnader was given a majority in the unofficial tally with a vote of 6,595 as compared to 6,353 as received by the Democratic candidate, making a total of 12,948. Last Tuesday the total vote cast in the county for president was 12,875, not counting the soldier ballots. They were divided 8,783 for Dewey and 4,092 for Roosevelt. In this connection it is interesting to note that Roosevelt's fourth term victory, sweeping in the electoral vote, was won by the smallest popular vote margin since 1916, nearly complete returns indicate. With 44,353,855 votes reported, the president's edge over Dewey stood at 2,867,319; Roosevelt, 23,610,587, and Dewey, 20,743,268. Four years ago the president won by a 4,938,711 over Wendell L. Willkie in a total popular vote of 49,815,321. In 1936, he defeated Alf Landon by over 10,000,000 and in 1932 won from Herbert Hoover by more than 7,000,000. Hoover's margin over Al Smith in 1928 exceeded 6,000,000, Calvin Coolidge won over John W. Davis in 1924 by more than 7,000,000 and Warren G. Harding defeated James Cox in 1920 by over 7,000,000. Woodrow Wilson's margin over Charles E. Hughes in 1916 was only 591,385.

bloating from undigested food when due to constipation.

COMMON SENSE SAYS:
If the movement of food waste through the intestinal tract or bowel is sluggish, clogged or delayed, it may bring on temporary constipation. And this may be a contributing cause of symptoms or conditions such as: sour stomach, bloating after meals from gas, and a jaded or poor appetite. For over a quarter of a century, thousands of delighted users have praised the laxative aid of World's Bitter Tonic.

PAC Members to See Film Sunday

The PAC will build its next Sunday evening service around a motion picture, "We, Too, Receive", another of the Cathedral Films, which tells the story of an American flyer wounded and shot down over Japanese territory in the southwest Pacific area, who learns the true meaning of religion from natives who aid their "Christian brother" in escaping from the Japs. This service will be held in the Sunday school auditorium of the First Presbyterian church at 6:45 following supper in the church dining room at 6:10.

William Fuelhart will be the leader for this service and will be assisted by Charles Cochener and Jack Lesser.

The PAC Orchestra, under the direction of John Knapp, will play for the service. The Westminster Choristers and Orchestra will rehearse as usual.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Are Free Enterprise Proponents Opposed to Monopolies?

MR. DESVERNINE OPENS: Human beings become monopolistic as soon as they can clutch their first toy and they stay that way until they die. We monopolize our homes, our wives and children, our money, our method of earning a living. Even Mr. Coffee attempts to monopolize the representation of his district in Congress. Society's job is not to destroy mankind's monopolistic desire, but to harness it for the public good. America's successful harnessing of this great force explains America's astounding material progress. We have laws controlling harmful monopolies but these laws are secondary in importance to the tremendous disciplinary powers of the free body of citizens who by their everyday purchases elevate those businesses which serve them and destroy those businesses that do not. Henry Ford had a virtual monopoly on low-priced cars as long as he built the best. When other manufacturers offered a better car, and Ford refused to change his Model T, the American public almost put him out of business. He saved himself only by obeying the will of the customer in America that has escaped the stifling discipline of the American customer whose freedom of choice takes him all-powerful.

CONG. COFFEE CHALLENGES: Certainly, humans are prone to become monopolistic, but ordered societies must not surrender to selfish consequences. Free enterprise means freedom of competition in open markets. In English journalism said—an acute American problem was the battle to reserve "freedom" from "enterprise". Admittedly, cartels or world monopolies exist; American monopolies work in close collaboration. The committee investigations proved this, for monopolies have expanded because they contended the Sherman Anti-Trust Law impeded production. Then, through patent, or exclusive ownership of source material, an enterprise becomes a monopoly, free enterprise is shackled. The loudest champions of so-called free enterprise are the sycophantic tools of monopoly.

MR. DESVERNINE REPLIES: An English journalist may have said that American freedom needed to be preserved from enterprise, but an English Prime Minister said that American enterprise needed to be preserved from the New Deal. Mr. Coffee, in speaking to identify business with badness, speaks as if America were hopelessly monopoly-ridden. If we have illegal, harmful monopolies, Mr. Coffee need only inform the Department of Justice. The weakness of Mr. Coffee's position is that these charges don't hold water. A favorite whipping boy of the New Dealers is the minimum Company of America. Hundreds of thousands of taxpayers' dollars were spent in prosecuting the minimum Company. The courts found no monopoly, no evil, no illegal practices. How much longer need we listen to this dreary hymn of monopoly?

CONG. COFFEE OPENS: Webster defines "enterprise" as any undertaking involving energy and courage. It includes every venture from making pins to robbing a bank or a nation. Free enterprise, therefore, means anything from making pins unhampered to robbing a nation without restraint. Significantly, Webster here quotes from Shakespeare: "Ripe for exploits and mighty enterprise". Today the chief proponents of Free Enterprise (capitalized for distinction) are big corporations associated with trusts, monopolies and cartels for the purpose of exploiting the materials and the peoples of the Earth. Making small-try men and corporations believe their individual freedom is jeopardized by governmental interference, these big corporations use them to further their own monopolistic practices. Though outlawed and termed free-bootery in the days of Queen Elizabeth, today their methods have become respectable and technically within the law—sometimes. To a corporation, therefore, Free Enterprise is the right to garner profit without restraint; and, as every seeker of profit aims at some kind of monopoly, monopoly is only the logical and natural end of such endeavors. For, in order to insure profit, coal men want to control all coal; oil men all oil; timber men, all forests; and so on ad infinitum. Proponents of Free Enterprise must logically and necessarily aim at monopoly.

MR. DESVERNINE CHALLENGES: Mr. Coffee misses the key point. It doesn't matter that men want monopoly for themselves—the important thing is that they oppose the other fellow having it—and oppose it very effectively. Even patents, which theoretically are temporary monopolies, seldom protect their owners from competition. In order to get a patent the inventor must publicly disclose his secret and the other fellow can usually find another way of doing the same thing. If there are any illegal monopolies in the United States (and I know of none), the fault lies not in the system but in our Department of Justice.

CONG. COFFEE REPLIES: The greatness of America was attained during the period of free competition. The independent business spirit, the ambition engendered constitute important factors in our growth and prosperity. Monopolies flourish through subterfuge, misrepresentation, pressures, lobbies, control of regulatory bodies. The people must demand decentralization. The telephone monopoly has combated all attempts to decentralize. The concentration of war contracts in relatively few gigantic industries has had the effect of wiping out thousands of small competitors. Congress then created the Smaller War Plants Corporation. Every congressman knows how difficult it is for small business to secure the federal help, priorities and cooperation necessary to carry on in a war program in which monopoly over shadows small rivals.

T. B. Society Is Distributing Yule Leaflets

The Warren County Tuberculosis Society is distributing to the teachers of Warren county schools a leaflet in which three Christmas Seal programs are found.

The first is a pageant, entitled "The Story of the Mail"; the second, a playlet called "A Postmaster's Dream"; and the third, a curtain raiser titled simply "The Letter".

These three programs were written by Grace T. Hallock, author of "Dramatizing Child Health" and co-author of the "Save and Healthy Living" series and the "Health Heroes" series. Written a number of years ago, they provided so popular that they were brought up to date by the author and will again delight young audiences throughout the nation.

These programs are an invitation to join in the celebration of the opening of the 38th annual Christmas Seal sale which begins the latter part of November.

Any teachers who have not received a copy of these three programs are asked to call Miss Ethel Hodges, Warren County Tuberculosis Society nurse, at 2723, Warren.

Social Security Officer Is Coming

A representative from the Erie field office of the Social Security Board, which services this area, will be in Warren November 13, it is announced today by George W. Ervin, manager.

Office hours will be held in the Employment Service Office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue west at 1:30 p. m. The representative is equipped to render the same service as the Erie field office and all persons desiring information on the social security laws are invited to call upon him.

Many persons are now obtaining employment and are required to have social security account numbers; others who have had cards have lost them and need duplicates. Also, persons just starting in business and hiring employees are required to obtain employers identification numbers. Matters of this type will be taken care of by the representative, who will also answer questions concerning records employers must keep, tax returns and wage reports, and other responsibilities under the social security laws. Applications may be filed with him for benefits by wage earners who are 65 or over or by the families of deceased wage earners.

Local Gridders In Final Game Tonight Against Corry

Dragon Machine In Top Form For Night Battle; Victory Is Expected Over Beaver Crew

Tonight at 8 o'clock Warren High's successful "Football Dragons" face the Corry Beavers on the Beavers' home grounds, this tilt being the finale for the both crews.

The Dragons have the upper hand in tonight's battle with the Beavers, although the Corry crew may pull something out of the bag to upset the Warren machine. The Corry eleven has been up and down during the entire season, winning from some of the more classy teams in the section, but have dropped decisive encounters to the weaker clubs. The Beavers lost a 45-7 decision to the Johnstown Ramblers, a crew that the local team soundly trounced in their third game of the season, 26-0.

Tonight's battle will get under way promptly at 8 p. m. at Loveland Stadium, being the Dragon crew's third tangle under the lights. Coach Leidig expects the Corry boys to put up a stiff battle although the Warren boys are favored to add another win to their list, which now totals seven.

The Corry squad has been playing two games each week compared to the usual one slated for local crew. The Beavers have been scheduled on Friday and Saturday night both. The opponents should be in the best of condition for the battle tonight and the Dragons have gone through some good scrimmages this week in preparation for this evening's encounter. The regulars will lineup at kick-off time for the Warren squad. Bob Sealise and Joe Allen at ends; Paul Dickerson and Big Larry Zorbert at tackles; Jay White and Bob Gerardi at the guard posts; and Captain Mac Strianni at the center position. In the backfield, George Lucia will be calling the plays; Powderhouse Red Lee and Wilder will line up at half-backs; and Dave Marti will be at the tailback spot.

Jack Tinson's crew will be bolstered considerably by the return to the lineup of several valuable offensive and defensive men: Chuck Jackson, Al Picardi, and Stretch McKinney. Tinson promises to have the best club possible on the field tonight to battle the Dragons to the final whistle.

The Dragon offensive will probably concentrate on an aerial attack tonight. The Warren eleven has gained a majority of their scores through the air lanes, unless weather interferes, the Warren heavies will be at top form.

Get some of that good old spirit and come along with the boys to the big show at Loveland Field tonight. Time—8 p. m. Occasion—Warren Dragons vs. Corry Beavers, the last encounter of the '44 season for both teams.

Cage Sked For Season Announced

High School Director of Athletics J. B. Leidig announced yesterday afternoon that the 1944-5 basketball season schedule has been completed and that the Dragons will go into action on December 1 against the Youngsville Eagles. District 10 League competition begins at Meadville on January 12 and ends at Oil City on February 27. Coach Joe Massa has high expectations of the squad this year and is planning to add some new types of offense and defense. The schedule is as follows:

Cadets to Break Records In Defeating Notre Dame

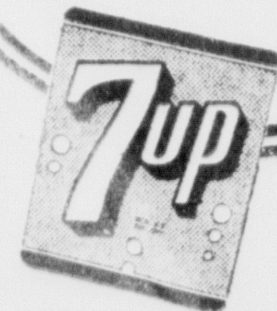

By ORLO ROBERTSON
New York, Nov. 10.—(P)—Returning to the football guessing game this week, we wish we could point with pride to the selections of sub Fritz Howell last week but he picked Notre Dame to beat Navy. At that he turned in a performance of only 11 defeats and one tie against 53 victories.

We give you:
Notre Dame—Army—Notre Dame never has been defeated by both Navy and Army the same year. Army hasn't scored against the Irish since 1938. The Cadets will break both traditions this year.

Cornell—Navy—Just a breeze for those hard-hitting Middles. Navy over Cornell.
Michigan over Illinois.
Georgia Tech over Tulane.
Ohio State over Pittsburgh.
Duke over Wake Forest.
Pennsylvania over Columbia.
Indiana over Minnesota.
Miss. State over Auburn.
Holy Cross over Colgate.
Yale over Brown.
Muhlenberg over Princeton.
Michigan State over Maryland.
Penn State over Temple, U. S. S. Coast Guard over Dartmouth.
Clemson over V. M. I. Virginia over Richmond, North Carolina over William and Mary. Swarthmore over New York Univ. West Virginia over Lehigh. Lafayette over Rutgers, and Bucknell over New York City College.

In every bottle of 7-Up there's the sunshine of a smile. More than a thirst-quencher it's a cheerful, sparkling drink with a uniquely happy flavor that leaves your mouth feeling clean and fresh... puts a sparkle into your spirits. All over America there's a good expression for the good it gives you—"fresh up"... that's it!

BEHIND THE LINES

About Town

A meeting of the Warren Bowling Association will be held this evening at 7:30 at the Elks Club.

This meeting includes all representatives affiliated with the American Bowling Congress. Girls interested in the sport of basketball will have opportunity this evening to voice their opinions concerning the starting of a girls' league. The meeting will be held at the YWCA at 7:00. Hunters report the game crop in considerable lower than in the past. Some of the nimrods have been fortunate in getting a few rabbits, squirrels, or grouse, but only a few. Those who attended the meeting of the Warren Field and Stream Club last evening were told the reasons for the lack of animals.

Final for the Leidigmen tonight when they invade Corry for the third night tilt of the year and the last game scheduled for the local crew. Basketball try-outs starting Monday leaves little time for a rest for the boys who have been playing football all season and now jump right into a football uniform. George Lucia, Dragon quarterback, is the only man who is a letterman in football and basketball both. Four other lettermen return to the court game this season under their new coach, Joe Massa. Joe Sealise, high scoring forward on last year's victorious crew; Bob Hammerbeck, Ken Morrison, and Dick Harris are the returning stars. This season's crew should see the best of basketball activity in Warren. With the YWCA League and the High School loop will furnish ample court life for the interested fans.

Football Roundup

The Leidigmen opened their 1944 season downing Bob Jewell's Eagles 21-7. On the following Monday came the "Invincible" Lions to the city to tramp on the Dragons 26-0. The local boys evened up their defeat by jumping over the Johnstown Ramblers by the same score as on Monday, only reversed. This rally started the Dragons on an undefeated tour, taking in order Franklin, 33-0; Titusville 27-7; Oil City 13-9. Whoops, and then we went to Falconer with high expectation of a fifth successive win. Falconer proved too much for the Warren eleven in the first half and a second half rally was not enough to put them ahead. They lost by one small point, 14-13. Came the annual Warren-Jamestown clash in which the local high schoolers badly outplayed the Sweetwater. Only to make a 0-0 tie. We made the trek to Bradford along with the boys with hopes of a fifth win, but the rain interfered and we took a 19-6 shellacking. Ridgway invaded the local community with too many expectations and the locals moved them down. 13-7. The home games finished, the boys trekked to Kane last Saturday and had a pushover in taking the Wolves, 26-0. Tonight the season climaxes with the boys going to Corry. They should add another win to the column, but if the weather is bad the Dragons may have a tough time.

Ammunition Shortage No Headache For Archers

Harrisburg, Nov. 9.—(P)—The shortage of ammunition for hunting purposes will prove no worry to at least one group of Pennsylvania sportsmen.

They are the hunters who prefer to bag deer and even small game with a bow and arrow instead of a rifle. The State Game Commission said about 50 archers annually apply for special $2 permits allowing them to hunt in the commonwealth's two 1,000-acre archery preserves in Sullivan and Forest counties. Archers may hunt elsewhere on a regular hunter's license. State game officials said the prospect for bow and arrow hunters this coming deer season looks "very encouraging," especially in Sullivan county, where timber crews have been operating on the special preserve.

Field officers reported "deer have been attracted from adjoining areas in larger numbers because of the browse they can so easily secure from the tops of the newly felled timber."

Control of Legislature Still in Doubt

(Turn to Page Eleven)

Republican Incumbent Howard W. Hughes by 2020.

Commenting on the presidential election, in which the commonwealth's 35 electoral votes went to President Roosevelt for a third time, the executive declared:

"The Republicans are proud that 51 of the counties supported Governor Dewey, but we are now all behind President Roosevelt in every effort to win the war speedily and the writing of a permanent peace."

Discussing prospects of the soldier vote count, Martin said "I've felt all the time the soldier vote would be about the same as the home vote, although out over the nation indications are it is stronger for President Roosevelt than Governor Dewey."
